ABOUT US

Hotel Moskva is located on Terazije Street plateau, at the heart of Belgrade. This architectural symbol of Belgrade started making its history of traditional Serbian hospitality long time ago, in 1908. Since its beginning, this hotel was a meeting place for famous and influential people, as well as business world. They always feel like home in this hotel with excellent reputation.

Hotel's location – the zero point of Belgrade – made it from the beginning the closest hotel to city's main sights – republic's and capital's institutions, Belgrade's and Serbia's Chamber of Commerce, pedestrian zone of Knez Mihailova street, Kalemegdan park, National museum and National theatre.

Hotel Moskva was built in the fashion of Russian Art Nouveau skillfully blended with the elements of Greek antiquity. During the 20th century hotel Moskva became the most famous catering establishment in Belgrade and from mid twentieth century the hotel is under state protection as a cultural monument.

From its opening in 1908, over 36 million of people visited hotel Moskva and 4 million satisfied guests have stayed here.

Among millions of guests, this hotel has made its impression on physicist Albert Einstein, film director Alfred Hitchcock, writer Maxim Gorki, American president Richard Nixon, Indian prime minister Indira Gandhi, opera singer Luciano Pavarotti as well as Hollywood actors like Jack Nicholson, Robert De Niro, Brad Pitt, Mila Jovovich, Kirk Douglas, Michael Douglas and many others.
